

LoLStats Description

LoLStats is an iOS application that tracks and compares the user's statistics in League of Legends, a popular MOBA (Multiplayer Online Battle Arena) game in which teams of players compete to accomplish goals in a variety of game modes. Currently, there exist web applications that track the stats of players, such as op.gg, LoLKing, and Elophant. LoLStats aims to largely replicate the functionality of these sites in a native iOS application while also adding the capability to track the users' friends' performance and compare his/her own stats to other players' stats using charts and graphs. In addition, the user may choose to add other players in a watch list, which allows the user to easily keep track of other players' performance and presents notifications to the user if one of the players on the watch list has played a new game.
